THE BETTER BUNGEE™

Polyurethane Bungee Straps

Industrial strength polyurethane and heavy-duty hook ends make safer, stronger bungee cords and straps. High-tech, lightweight material will not break, rot, or become brittle when exposed to harsh weather elements, oils, or fuels.

Cords—Glass-filled nylon hooks are overmolded into a one-piece cord for superior performance and durability. Max. stretch is two times length. Hook ends have a 180# break rating. Synch cord has loop on one end and hook on the other.

Straps—High-tech industrial strength urethane straps are available with three types of hook ends: S-Hook 2 0.188 (3.16) galvanized steel with a 250# break rating; S-Hook stainless steel with a 225# break rating; or J-Hook fiber-filled nylon overmolded ends (rated at 180#) for nonmarring applications. Two times max. stretch. Straps with slots are adjustable to just about any size and are available with stainless steel or overmolded nylon ends.

CUSTOM STRAPPING

Create custom-length straps with no stitching required.

Nylon—Strong and flexible material has good elasticity and recovery. Absorbs moisture, dries easily, and is mildew- and insect-resistant.

Polypropylene—Material features excellent chemical resistance and low moisture absorption. Floats and is resistant to mildew and abrasion. For lightweight applications.

Polyester—Durable material is quick drying. Resists most chemicals, stretching and shrinking, wrinkles, mildew, and abrasion. For medium- and heavy-duty applications.

BUCKLES AND FITTINGS

Metal or plastic attach without sewing to make finished assemblies.
