AKRO-MILS

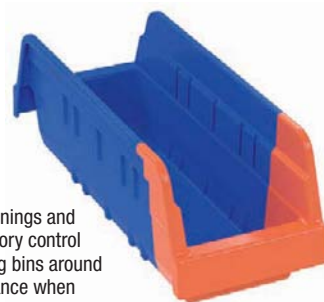

Replenishment Indicator Bins

- Sturdy plastic construction
- Include molded-in label holders

Front and back sides of bins have hopper openings and are different colors. Commonly used in inventory control systems to identify low stock levels by flipping bins around to reveal the secondary color and see at a glance when restocking is needed. Order optional dividers and use to designate normal and low stocking levels.

Metal Drawer Bins

- Durable steel construction
- Include dividers, additional dividers available as listed

Bins have solid bodies, open tops, and front handles that provide a grip to remove or insert them in compatible bin shelving units and pick racks. Extended vertical tab on the back side catches on a lip on the shelving unit to prevent it from sliding out. Used to organize and store small-to-medium-sized items such as hardware, replacement parts, and tools. Suitable for high temperature and combustible environments, such as welding, automotive, and machine shops.
