

Lockout Padlocks

▪ For more lock colors, see Grainger.com

Plastic Covered Safety Locks with Steel Shackle—Designed for safety lockout applications, these locks are completely insulated against electric shocks, and are available in many colors with multilingual warning stickers. Encased aluminum body provides a high level of heat resistance. Steel shackle helps secure devices with smaller diameter holes.

Plastic Covered Safety Locks, Short and Long Body—Built especially for safety lockout applications. They are completely insulated against electric shocks, offer a high level of heat resistance with aluminum body, and are available in many colors with multilingual warning stickers.

Aluminum Safety Locks—Feature aluminum bodies that are suitable for a wide range of applications and are available in a number of different colors. Lightweight and helps keep the user safe, but does not weigh them down. Hardened steel shackle with enhanced anti-corrosion coating.

Lockout Padlocks

Ecolution 72 Series—Compact and lightweight recycled aluminum body, anodized inside and outside. NANO PROTECT plated steel shackle provides maximum corrosion resistance.

Locks come standard with a 6-pin cylinder for maximum key changes.

▪ Minimum 70% postconsumer recycled content

Ecolution 74 Series—High recycled content padlocks are spark-resistant and eco-friendly. Dielectric plastic-encased aluminum body and shackle provide extra safety and durability. Locks include trilingual labels for customization. Support LEED building certification.

Laminated Ecolution 41 Series—Our laminated steel safety padlocks are suitable for both safety and security purposes. They are made with high-quality recycled steel laminates that are individually coated with a non-hazardous cadmium-free plating, giving the lock an extremely good level of rust resistance. Colored vinyl bumpers are available for easy identification and compliance with OSHA regulations. The perfect safety lock for use in harsh conditions and for added security.
