Push Broadcast and Drop Spreaders

Broadcast spreaders spray in a designated pattern from the unit. They can have a 'deflector' that limits the spray reducing where the output goes. 1-hole models are best for spreading finer materials such as grass seed and fertilizer. Broadcast and drop spreaders with high-output (HO) drop are best for larger granular materials such as ice melt. Drop spreaders drop the product directly below the spreader for greater control of location (this could help prevent harm to the environment, surfaces, vegetation, concrete, etc.). Stainless steel axles resist corrosion. Drop spreaders are for sidewalk and other controlled spreading applications. Garden seeder helps prep rows for planting and accurately plants seeds at the right intervals.
